County Solicitor Lockhart Resigns; McElwee Named

Attorney Lockhart Quits
Post After Service Of
Fourteen Years

TO DEVOTE TIME
TO LAW BUSINESS

County Commissioners Select Attorney McElwee
To Fill Vacancy

Attorney John P. Lockhart this morning presented his resignation as county solicitor to the county commissioners. He gave as a reason that his law practice has increased to such an extent, that he does not have the required time to devote to the county's business.

Mr. Lockhart has held the office of county solicitor for the past 14 years. He was first chosen solicitor under Commissioners Weingartner, Huey and Shields. His second term was under Weingartner, McCullough and Davis. During this term Weingartner resigned and Charles Matthews was appointed in his place. He then served under Commissioners Elder, Boyd and McCullough, and under the present county commissioners.

Mr. Lockhart has made a very able and conscientious county solicitor, the best evidence of his ability being the fact that he has retained the office for 14 consecutive years. During all this time he has attended to his private practice, which has now grown to such proportions that he felt that he must give up one or the other, and naturally preferred giving up the county solicitorship.

McElwee Named
The county commissioners accepted his resignation with reluctance, as they had come to rely on Mr. Lockhart's experience and judgment to guide them in the administration of the affairs of the county. Immediately following the resignation the commissioners named Attorney William McElwee Jr. to fill the vacancy at a salary of $2,100 per year, the same as paid Mr. Lockhart.

In the selection of Mr. McElwee the commissioners have made a happy choice, as Mr. McElwee is well qualified both by experience and

PA NEW C OBSERVES

Heaviest snowfall of the winter created some traffic difficulties in this area this morning. Highways and streets were kept open however, despite the difficulties. In the city the streets traversed by car lines were cleared by the snow sweeper of the traction company.

Action of the police in confiscating sheds of lots on Sheridan avenue who make a practice of hitching onto autos that come along the street, should be a warning that would put a stop to this dangerous practice. Parents of boys coasting on Sheridan avenue have a large responsibility in breaking up this dangerous situation.

February is apparently going down on the records of 1934 as one of the old fashioned winters that we have been hearing about for so long. Not content with a large proportion of the days hitting under zero, a record snow is being experienced today to make the month all the more memorable.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Feb. 26.—Storm, implacable foe of airmen, claimed a total of eight more lives today as the rugged summit of Parley's canyon, 20 miles east of Salt Lake, gave up the secret of the fate of the huge United Air Line transport, missing since last Friday.

Muddled into the front end of the all-metal airship were its five passengers and crew of three, all dead—unquestionably killed instantly as the giant plane plunged with terrific force into the mountainside and buried its nose deep in the snow.

The bodies of all seven men were badly mangled. That of Mary Carter, beautiful 24-year-old stewardess, was intact.

Snowshoes, skis and sleds were used by members of the rescue parties that removed the bodies.

The ill-fated air liner was sighted Sunday afternoon by Pilot Don Broughton and co-pilot Creighton Geer, after a fruitless and hazardous air search of two days.

The Dead Are:

Lloyd Anderson, pilot; Eric G. Danielson, co-pilot, and Mary Carter, stewardess.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Say, these New York weather fellows deliver the goods. They advertised in all the papers that they had another storm in rehearsal, that they would be ready to produce what would be a bigger production than the last one, and by gosh, I believe it looks today like the boys are going to make good.

Clark Gable is back here appearing on the stage, and I am here trying to help keep the women away from him.

The big brokers of Wall Street are all moving down to Washington, for all their big clients are on the stand there all the time. They are putting tickers in the investigating rooms now.

SEEK FEDERAL AID FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Educators Hope For Quick Action

Huge Appropriation Sought As Aid To Many Distressed Schools

PRESSURE INCREASES FOR CONGRESS ACTION

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—With public schools being closed and teachers suffering from lack of pay, an appeal for federal aid for education was laid before the House education committee today.

A committee representing the leading public school executives of the nation planned to lay before Congress a picture of demoralization of public education which, they hope, will bring prompt action.

Seek Federal Aid
An immediate appropriation of $50,000,000 and another of $100,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1 is proposed by the educators. A score of bills seeking aid have been introduced in both Senate and House.

A veritable deluge of mail is being received by members of Congress backing the plea for aid. The pressure has been increasing in the last few weeks as failure of school districts to collect taxes have forced closing of schools, shortening of terms and more and more teachers find themselves in dire straits.

Dr. James H. Richmond, superintendent of public instruction of Kentucky, and Dr. George F. Zook, U. S. commissioner of education, head the list of witnesses before the committee.

Dr. Richmond is head of the national committee for federal aid in education. It was formed following a survey of the situation by the federal advisory committee for education, which came to the conclusion that aid was necessary.

Dr. Sidney B. Hall, commissioner of education of Virginia, Dr. A. F. Harman, state superintendent of Alabama; Dr. James N. Rule, superintendent of public instruction in Pennsylvania, and at least 15 other state superintendents were invited to testify.

The snow and cold were responsible for seven deaths and injuries to five persons in the Pittsburgh area. Four persons met death in Westmoreland and Indiana counties while five were taken to hospitals following automobile crashes.

Seeking to escape the wintry blasts, two babies were smothered to death by bed clothing in Johnstown. The Philadelphia area reported four fatalities.

John Morgan, 60-year-old bachelor, was burned to death in his shack at Greenville when an overheated stove fired the structure.

A belated but unrelenting King Winter buried central Pennsylvania under a blanket of snow that ranged from two to six inches and even

2,000 Work On Highways.

More than 2,000 workmen employed by the state highways department were at work throughout the state, attempting to clear the roads. Many of them had been recalled from rural sections where they were busy clearing outlying roads of last week's snow.

In Harrisburg the temperature hovered around 10 degrees while the heavy blanket of snow seriously hampered automobile, trolley car and bus traffic.

Motorists, however, reported the snow was of the dry type and did not cling to windshields as an additional hazard.

Weather bureau officials here warned that a sudden thaw might result in serious floods because of the frozen condition of the Susquehanna river.

In the wake of a heavy snowfall, a high frigid gale whistled over Philadelphia and its environs, whirling the snow into deep drifts that halted or obstructed traffic on virtually all roads.

Claims Four Lives.

With the mercury hovering between 8 and 17 degrees above zero, the storm claimed four lives over the week-end in the Philadelphia area. The latest fatality was recorded with the discovery of the body of Mrs. Mattie Paul, 35, buried in a snow drift near Barnegat, N. J. The woman's face was covered with scratches showing that she had battled through thorny bushes in a futile effort to find a haven from the storm.

Two deaths in Philadelphia and one in Gloucester, N. J., were attributed to the harsh climate. In Philadelphia accidents were numerous, caused principally by skidding automobiles. Scores of persons, injured in falls, were treated at hospitals. More than 1,000 men were at work cleaning streets and trolley tracks.

Air, rail and automobile traffic was hampered and delayed. All activity, including the handling of the mails, was suspended at Camden, N. J. airport. Trains and buses were hours behind schedule. Complete isolation due to the impassable condition of the roads threatened many farms and communities in Bucks, Delaware and Montgomery counties.

The freighter S. S. Collingsworth, bound for Buenos Aires, went aground on Pea Patch island in the Delaware river, shortly afterward, no attempts were made to navigate the ice-laden stream.

Trucksloads of food were ready to be sent today from Camden to avert threatened starvation of residents of two oyster-shucking communities, Bivalve in Cumberland county and nearby Shillip. The extreme weather has prevented oyster boats from setting out and it was reported acute food shortage is endangering the 2,500 inhabitants of these two communities.

EIGHT KILLED WHEN AIR LINER HITS MOUNTAIN SIDE

and the position of the wrecked liner told the story of the ship's tragedy. The crash stopped at 2:35, thirty-five minutes after the plane roared out of the Salt Lake airport eastbound for Cheyenne. The nose of the ship was pointed west, indicating that Pilot Anderson was heading back for the local airport and safety when he crashed up.

Experienced pilots explaining that the plane probably plunged straight into the ground while making a bank. Bewildered by fog, they said, Pilot Anderson nosed the liner into the side of one of the highest peaks of the Wasatch mountains.

Three hours later the plane was spotted by air searchers, ground rescue crews were able to struggle through five feet of snow and rugged terrain to the scene of the tragedy.

By DON BROUGHTON
Pilot of the Rescue Ship That First Sighted the Wrecked Airliner as Told to International News Service

Salt Lake City, Utah, Feb. 20.—It was quite by accident that we sighted "Andy's" missing ship, ("Andy") is Lloyd Anderson, pilot of the wrecked plane.

We had been over the spot a dozen times but failed to see the ship. We had just received radio instructions from the Salt Lake airport to quit the search for the day.

Darkness was coming on rapidly. We were zigzagging leisurely over the summit, only eight minutes flying time from the local airport. As our ship banked sharply not much more than 100 feet from the ground both Creighton Geers, and myself suddenly spied the wrecked ship. It wasn't more than ten feet off the regular air course.

The plane was headed into the snow with its nose and looked for all the world like a tree in the fast-gathering dusk.

We circled closer. Its nose was about a foot in the deep snow and it looked as though the wings had been pushed back, probably by the terrific impact.

If the ship had come down flat there might have been a chance for "Andy" and the others. But it looked to us from the air as if it came down nose first. The passengers were probably hurled forward to the front of the cabin.

It was an experience that started because Mary, just graduated from a nurses' training school in Chattanooga, Tenn., wanted a job, and was fascinated by the prospect of a career in the air—an experience that ended in a sweet love of life and ended in stark tragedy in the West's worst airplane accident.

Recently Transferred
Mary Carter took her first run almost two years ago, in April, 1932, out of Omaha, Neb. Three weeks ago, on Feb. 1, she was transferred to Salt Lake with her chum, Martha Dalin, to fly over the treacherous stretch between Salt Lake and Cheyenne.

Despite the fact that she had been in two previous crashes, Mary had no pretension of danger before she boarded her ship at Salt Lake on the last trip, her roommate and chum said.

"Mary was never afraid," Miss Dalin said. "She didn't have any special premonitions about flying. She wrote a lot of letters but she never intimated in any of them any fear of the air."

Captain John Stege Will Explain To Court How Confession Was Obtained

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop faced a trying courtroom ordeal today as the prosecution sought to bring into evidence her so-called "confession" explaining the weird operating table slaying of her daughter-in-law, Rheta.

Her health precarious at the best, Dr. Wynekoop's physician took precautions to prevent the defendant from becoming emotionally overwrought during the criminal court session.

The aged physician's statement, made two days after the girl's death, explained that Rheta died of an overdose of anesthetic while the Wynekoop operating table and then was shot in the back with a revolver bullet.

Capt. John Stege, a witness to the statement, was to take the stand for the prosecution and explain how the "confession" was obtained from Dr. Wynekoop. Defense counsel held that it was taken under duress.

NO LOOSE ENDS

*the tobacco

Every Lucky Strike is made from the finest tobacco and only the center leaves. Not the top leaves—because those are under-developed—not ripe. They would give a harsh smoke. Not the bottom leaves—because those are inferior in quality. They grow close to the ground, and are tough, coarse and always sandy. The center leaves are the mildest leaves, for which farmers are paid higher prices. Only these center leaves are used in making Luckies the fully packed cigarette—so round, so firm—free from loose ends. That's why Luckies draw easily, burn evenly. And remember—"It's toasted"—for throat protection—for finer taste.

REAL OLD-FASHIONED WINTER!

MANY amateur weather prophets went sadly awry this winter on forecasts of another mild season.

The clan wrote with considerable eloquence that "old fashioned winters" have gone to return no more.

But these predictions were scarcely off the press before just that kind of a winter came howling in, late last month.

The weather man has given the country a genuine taste of the winters that used to be so common, going to extremes, in fact, with 20 and 25 degrees-below temperatures, to impress upon the effervescent amateurs that they've made a serious error in forecasting the doom of old-style, sub-zero, set-in-and-stay winter seasons.

And, incidentally, the Groundhog Day axiom for 1934 is still looking pretty good.

HEADED FOR PROSPERITY

America is headed for greater prosperity than she has ever known. This is the prediction of Frank A. Vanderlip, former president of the National City Bank, New York, voiced in a speech in Los Angeles.

Skeptics will smile. They have heard similar predictions before. But Mr. Vanderlip was not one of the false prophets of 1928-29. He was one of the skeptics then and the fact that his skepticism has since been proved to have been amply justified makes his present optimism seem all the more sound.

Signs of the prosperity he prophesies are multiplying daily. It is noteworthy that the currency hullabaloo has nearly subsided. Neither inflationists nor worshippers of the golden calf are now heard lamenting the nation's money policy. This, Mr. Vanderlip says, is one of the most favorable omens.

Steel mills are operating at close to 50 per cent of capacity, automobile factories are turning out almost 100,000 cars a week—compared to 10,000 a week one year ago—bank clearings are continuing to rise sensationally and sales of the retail stores are up from 25 to 100 per cent over the 1933 figures.

Mr. Vanderlip says we are headed for greater prosperity than ever.

IMPRACTICLE ECONOMICS

Recently, many readers were impressed by a series of articles leading to the conclusion that the problems of industry could be solved only by the consumer's decision to save less and spend more. The articles admitted the theoretical propriety of reduced spending and increased saving when aggregate consumers' demand should have outrun producers' facilities. The gist of the series was that the present industrial dilemma is a producing capacity in excess of visible consumption.

To disinterested persons, the reasoning seems entirely academic. Their natural comment was that the average citizen spends or saves, and presumably will continue to do so, according to his personal character or circumstances. Therefore, while the argument that he ought to adjust his use of surplus income to preserving equilibrium in trade might be unanswerable economically, practically it would get exactly nowhere.

If permanent prosperity and absolute abolition of unemployment depend upon establishing and enforcing an exact ratio between saving and spending, society must continue to get along with alternating periods of prosperity and hard times.

"AN ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE TASK"

With the bluntness of a veteran soldier and an eloquence that can only be based upon honest conviction, Major C. L. Tinker, commander of the Western division of the Army air-mail service, declares that in taking over this work the Army had "an almost impossible task."

He says very frankly that the new job loaded on the Army is impairing the national defense. "It was next to impossible," he declares, "in the short time between receipt of the executive order to fly the mail and the initiation of Army fliers into the work to make any preparation for it." Commercial air pilots have from a year to eighteen months of special training before they are allowed to go alone. The Army men were given none.

It is true that the Army fliers have experience, but it is an entirely different line of flying. They are accustomed to flying in formation, to bombing, to fighting ships in the air, to pursuit and attack. The commercial transports are fitted with automatic control instruments for "blind flying" in darkness and fog which are not on planes used by the military units. Also the civilian ships have closed and warmed cockpits to protect the men from dangerous weather extremes.

All of this constitutes an indictment from a responsible Army officer who certainly should know what he is talking about. He adds: "It will go down in our records that no signal man has flinched in tackling this task."

That fact makes it all the more deplorable that brave men should have been sent to death in the undertaking.

Poor creatures! By the time they are thin enough to be in fashion, their elbows look awful.

Man has some abilities, but he can't demonstrate his wife's importance by snubbing other men.

Another thing the matter with this country is the belief that it takes about $40 to have a good time.

It is easy to clear up unsolved crimes. You just wait till a bandit is caught and then pin all of them on him.

Man now understands almost everything except how a woman decides when she should or shouldn't wear a hat.

Funny man! Killing off the harmless wild creatures while the unlimited rat destroys property and carries disease.

Don't feel hurt if a movie star fails to answer your letter. Perhaps his manager hasn't had time to read it to him.

The man who turned $40 into $5,000,000 within three years is the kind Mr. Roosevelt needs to advise him on national finances.

If they can make a wireless phone heard only by the person for whom it's intended, maybe they can work the idea on automobile horns.

With army engineers taking over the civil works program and army fliers taking over the air mail service, it seems the government ought to be able to find some work for the marines to do. Maybe they could act as NRA police.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

"I HAVE BEEN HERE BEFORE" Sometimes, as you go down a road and turn a corner you come upon a scene that is so familiar to you that you find yourself thinking, "Surely I have been here before." . . . Once, a long time ago, in this life or in some other, you saw that corner of a field, you lived in that lovely old house beneath those oaks, you lifted your head and breathed the clean air of this restful place.

Sometimes a thought comes to you. Sometimes you hear yourself saying certain words. Sometimes you meet a man or a woman. And you are bothered for days by the certainty that somewhere, you had that thought, said those words, knew that human being before . . . It is all so familiar, as comfortable as an old shoe, as dear as a beloved voice. . . . You come to a pause in the hurly-burly. You cease from your nagging worry. Confidence floods back upon you again. You feel AT HOME. You have been there before.

You have and you haven't. Your feet never wandered down that road. You never had those thoughts, never met that friend, never lived this minute in this life or in any other. . . . But this is the perfect instant, just the same. . . . Now you are living as all men should live. Now you have attained your dream. You have that fair emotion, that thought that you have "been there before," because at this moment all things are shaped into some semblance of perfection. You and the time and the emotion are one at last. For one fast-flying moment you have COME HOME. You are past the fever and the excitement and the vague unhappiness and you may say that you have been there before because this moment repeats all your moments of peace and beauty. The feeling is the same although the time and the place are different. You are in the presence of the good, the true and the beautiful and something that lives deep within you rises to the surface and welcomes the good experience.

Your Income Tax

No. 25

DEPRECIATION ALLOWANCES The amount to be recovered by depreciation is the cost of the property, if acquired after February 28, 1913. If acquired by purchase prior to that date the basis is the cost of the property, less depreciation sustained prior to March 1, 1913, or the value on March 1, 1913, whichever is greater.

The proper allowance for depreciation is that amount which should be set aside for the taxable year in accordance with a reasonably consistent plan (not necessarily a uniform rate), whereby the aggregate amount so set aside, plus the salvage value, will at the end of the useful life of the property equal the cost or other basis of the property.

The depreciation rate of a building is not based upon the number of years it will stand before being condemned and razed, but on the number of years it will remain habitable or serviceable for the purpose for which constructed.

If the taxpayer builds a new building, the period over which depreciation may be claimed begins at the time the building is completed and capable of being used. Buildings under construction are not subject to a depreciation allowance.

If it is clearly shown that, because of economic or other conditions, property must be abandoned at a date prior to the end of its normal useful life, so that depreciation deductions alone are sufficient to return the cost or other basis, a reasonable deduction for obsolescence may be allowed in addition to depreciation. No deduction for obsolescence is permitted because, in the opinion of the taxpayer, the property may become obsolete at some future date.

BLUE JAYS Oh, it were easy quite I'd say to write a line or two today Of winter's desolation and the garden bleak and bare

But here through rain and snow have strayed a pair of blue jays unafraid.

And nestled in the cedar tree beside the windows there.

I watch them as they come and go a flash of blue against the snow, I hear them pipe their curious song, a trifle sharp or flat:

And spite of icy wind and storm, I'll swear they've kept their bodies warm.

If winter is a dreary time I'll swear it's made them fat.

Some birds, perhaps more faint of heart, with autumn for the South depart

And hurry where the winds are warm and skies are always clear

But blue jays, made of sterner stuff, contrive to nestle warm enough

In cedar trees as if they felt the Lord required them there.

The sweeter songsters fly away the more courageous blue jays stay

And whether they could leave or not it isn't mine to know

I'm only sure when storms descend 'tis fine to have a winter friend

Who stays to share your loneliness when others pack and go.

Who Drew Up NRA Codes?
A Huey Long Story
Progressive Kingfish Combine

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—All eyes are turned toward Washington. When one returns from there, he is asked: "What's new?"

Well, the newest thing seems to be a definite alignment between progressives and Senator Huey Long of Louisiana—a definite alignment at least as to who drew up the NRA codes.

That may seem insignificant now, but such alignment bears all the seeds of revolt.

WHO? Well, who did draw up various codes? It's no secret. The NRA works very much in the open.

But the Kingfish desires to put on record the background of the men.

So does Senator Gerald Nye, progressive, of South Dakota, who introduced the disturbing resolution. Huey points out that President Teague of the Standard Oil of New Jersey directed the writing of the oil code.

And President Gifford of the American Telephone & Telegraph company wrote the telephone code.

Since Gifford's company has a virtual monopoly on the telephone business, Gifford wrote the code literally for his own company.

A LONG STORY Senator Long tells an interesting story.

His state—Louisiana—sought lower telephone rates.

The telephone company said it couldn't give lower rates, it had to abide by the telephone code.

"The code drawn up by the president of the telephone trust," Huey adds.

BLACK Senator Hugo Black Of Alabama, chairman of the senatorial committee delving into airmail irregularities, found former Postmaster General Walter F. Brown a hard nut to crack.

Newspaper men at the hearing were inclined to put Senator Black far below Ferdinand Pecora as a senatorial inquisitor.

That is all aside from the merits of the case. Senatorial inquisitions depend for their success on the skill of the inquirer in public hearings.

ANTI-LYNCH Hearings on an anti-lynching bill were more dramatic.

People came here who testified to the horrors and injustices of lynching.

There was no gainsaying that—not a word against the stamping out of lynching.

Yet the bill will not pass. "Certain states reserve the right to lynch," one observer remarked.

POWER When Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt is for something, it's likely to go through.

Mrs. Roosevelt, in her quiet manner, is the real crusader of the day. She is quick to combat injustices. She is for a better social order. She is for the underdog.

The president and she truly are a remarkable couple. They speak the voice of the people.

That is why the old-time political leaders are confounded. Such is the word in Washington.

OLD LEADERS Senators Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas and Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi are having a difficult time of it maintaining their leadership in the senate.

They are beset from two sides.

MONDAY, FEB. 26.

Historic Anniversaries 1815—Napoleon Bonaparte unsettled Europe after its statesmen thought they had settled everything, by escaping from Elba, casting aside the role of petty prince of a Mediterranean isle, to take command once again as emperor, to Command a nation, to stake all on his genius as a general.

Four days later he landed in France, and the final 100 days of Napoleon the Great began. In four months he was again, and finally, in exile upon a tiny isle, done for at 46.

1852—There was classic bravery as British steamer Birkenhead sank at 2 a. m., off Point Danger, southeast coast of Africa. There weren't enough life boats, women and children were sent away to safety, men of the 1st Lancs, 60th Rifles and 2nd, 6th, 12th, 43rd, 45th, 73rd, 74th, 91st Regiments lines the rails at attention and the long roll played up on the drums as they went down with the ship in unbroken ranks. 454 drowned.

(History repeats. Or, the same date, in 1916, the French battleship Provence sank in the Mediterranean with a loss of 2,600.)

1907—Biggest command ever assigned an American general was given for a peacetime task; George W. Goethals, aged 40, U. S. Army was made chief engineer of the Panama Canal, a $300,000,000 job he completed it ahead of schedule.

Notables Born This Date—Victor Marie Hugo, b. 1802, author of the classic Les Misérables, "reest" French novels. His Le Roi Samuse has been sung around the world as Risotto, with Verdi's music. Dominique Arago, b. 1768, French astronomer and physicist, stable for discoveries in magnetism and optics.

William F. "Buffalo Bill" Cody, b. 1846, plainsman and showman. Coniesbaw Dawson, b. 1883, Canadian

The administration pushes them beyond all bounds.

And the progressives, plus Huey Long, tantalize them on the other side.

They can combat the regular Republicans. In fact, they seem to have a deeper understanding of the old Republicans than of the new elements injected by the New Deal. But they can't combat their own side.

SUICIDAL MOTORING

As a motorist you have had the experience of feeling drowsy at the wheel.

This may have been from loss of sleep or due to other causes. You have nodded off to find your car headed toward the side of the paying but you kept on driving despite this warning.

You may have escaped an accident but many thousands in similar circumstances have not been so fortunate.

When you feel sleepy while driving a car—stop!

Either take a little walk or a short nap until you have overcome the spell, or turn the wheel over to someone else.

It is too great a risk to keep going when you are having difficulty in keeping awake.

Young folks meet with accidents frequently because the girls encourage speeding; instead of being sensible advisers, they encourage their escorts to "step on the gas."

Red-blooded chaps will obey a girl's suggestion to speed up. Few will fail to take this suggestion especially if accompanied by the intimation that the boy friend companion is afraid to drive fast.

Too often, the girls themselves are to blame for the accidents they meet.

Westminster Journalists Join National Honorary Fraternity

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 26.—Affiliating with chapters in 50 American colleges and universities, Tau Gamma Delta, honorary journalism fraternity at Westminster college, Saturday became the Westminster chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism fraternity.

Initiation exercises, at which nine campus journalists became chartered members of the chapter, took place in Old Main Memorial building at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Edward E. McDonald of the Carnegie Tech chapter acted as installing officer. He was assisted by Harry S. Hower, president of the Carnegie Tech chapter.

Men who became members were: Charles Branfield, Masury, O.; Robert N. Jones, Sharon; Robert V. Jones, New Wilmington; James McGeorge, New Castle; Paul McKinn Brocton, N. Y.; Kenneth Mehl Sharon; Maurice Michenerhausen Grand Rapids, Mich.; Harold Polonus, Sharon; and Alan Van Harper, Zellenople.

Following the installation of the chapter, the old officers of Tau Gamma Delta were elected as officers of Pi Delta Epsilon. They are: Charles Branfield, president; Paul McKinn, vice-president; Kenneth Mehl, secretary-treasurer.

The initiation banquet was held in the Hillside dining rooms at 6:30. Present at the dinner were the following guests: President R. F. Galbreath, Professor Ben Ewema and William A. Johns of Westminster; Bart Richards, New Castle News; Peter R. Smaltz and Jack Fisher, Sharon Herald; Jerry Harshman, Sharon News-Telegraph; and Irving Mansell, Youngstown Vindicator.

Professor R. X. Graham acted as toastmaster. Dr. R. F. Galbreath offered the blessing. Bart Richards spoke of his affiliation with Tau Gamma Delta and Westminster people.

One of the first projects of the Westminster chapter will be to cooperate with the lecture course and the journalism course in putting on a journalism day at the college late in March. Newspaper editorial and mechanical officials and workers will be invited to the college for a Saturday afternoon and evening conference and banquet. A nationally known speaker will present a technical discussion of newspaper make-up, typography, and headlines schedules. It is possible, also, that a moving picture interesting to the newspaper field will be shown at the banquet.

Dr. Dean Trial In Greenwood, Miss., Is Resumed Today

Defense Medical Experts Will Contend That Dr. Kennedy Was Not Mercury Victim

TRIAL WILL END SOMETIME IN WEEK

(International News Service)

GREENWOOD, Miss., Feb. 26.—Bolstered by the presence in the city of her reputed fiancé, Dr. Sara Ruth Dean today prepared for another session in which defense medical experts will testify that the former sweetheart she is accused of killing could not have died of mercury poisoning.

The brilliant young pediatrician charged with the murder of Dr. J. Preston Kennedy seemed somewhat brighter after the week-end respite, though she is still haggard and weary.

Suffering from a chronic stomach ailment, Dr. Dean's physical condition has apparently grown worse as the trial wears on.

After the defense experts get thru, the state will put several rebuttal witnesses on the stand to testify that Dr. Kennedy not only died of mercury poisoning, but was perfectly rational when he made his alleged death-bed statement accusing Dr. Dean of murdering him.

COLD'S Go Overnight

When You Take The Right Thing!

A cold doesn't have to run its course and expose you to serious complications. A cold can be routed overnight if you go about it the right way. First of all, a cold being an internal infection, calls for internal treatment. Secondly, a cold calls for a COLD remedy and not for a "cure-all".

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is what a cold requires. It is expressly a cold remedy. It is internal and direct—and it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippy feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. Anything less than that is taking chances with a cold. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any druggist. 30c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and beware of dealers who offer substitutes.

RESTOCKING COUNTY WITH GAME FARM RABBITS

First Rabbits From Game Farm Being Released

Rabbit-Raising Experiment At Jordan Farm Is Showing Fine Results

RELEASE RABBITS IN LAWRENCE CO.

Better Type Rabbit Than Those Imported; Cold Weather Not Bothering Birds

During the spring of 1932 experiments in propagation of the wild cotton tail rabbits, in their natural environment, were started on a small scale at the Jordan State Game Farm, one mile from Harlansburg.

Today Superintendent V. T. Warfel announces that the experiments have begun to show very satisfactory results and that the first release of rabbits from the game farm is being made right now by Game Protector Frank Cosen.

Furthermore, Lawrence county sportsmen are the first to reap the benefits of rabbit propagating experiments conducted at the Jordan State Game Farm. The entire first allotment produced at the farm stays here in the county of Lawrence.

This experimental work was begun by placing thirty rabbits in a wooded and swampy area, fenced with a vermin tight fence. Other than the planting of small plots of clover, turnips, etc., to furnish an abundance of food, and the placing of some food in the field during the winter, the rabbits have been left to follow their natural trails, undisturbed until a few days ago when trapping was started for the purpose of a check up on results.

To date one hundred and seventy rabbits have been trapped and it is expected that many more will be trapped within the next few days. In addition to the very satisfactory number of rabbits produced through this experimental work the good size and excellent physical condition of the rabbits trapped is very satisfactory and it is believed, and so expressed by local sportsmen, that rabbits is worth from three to five rabbits of the class usually imported from western states for restocking purposes.

Hundred Released Here

While the trapping of these rabbits was started last week, primarily for a check-up on results of the experiment, it was found that many more would be trapped than were desired for holding at the farm for continuing the experiments and Supt. Warfel arranged with the Harlansburg office of the Game Commission to release those not required for propagating purposes at the farm, in Lawrence County resulting in the delivery of one hundred of these fine healthy, acclimated rabbits to Game Protector Cosen this week, for distribution in Lawrence County.

This work is to be continued on a larger scale this year and it is the hope of the Game Commission that results will improve until reaching the point where Pennsylvania will no longer have to depend on an outside source for rabbits for restocking, but will be producing an abundance of these superior quality rabbits on their own game farms.

Brooder-Birds Sturdy

Two thousand pheasants held at the game farm for this season's brooders have wintered exceptionally well, and approximately seven hundred of as fine birds as ever seen on the farm will be placed in the laying pens next month. The birds hatched and brooded last season by the new artificial method have proven themselves as sturdy and as capable of enduring this winter's severe weather in the open as those hatched and reared by the old method, with the setting hen.

THE SIGHT OF FOOD NAUSEATED WELL KNOWN NEW CASTLE LADY

Stomach was out of order, food turned sour, gas formed. Tongue was coated, often felt dizzy, constipated all the time. Says Vendol has given marvelous relief.

"Before I started taking Vendol my appetite was so poor that I hated to see meal time arrive and even the sight of food often nauseated me but this splendid medicine has changed all of this," said Mrs. C. S. McCaskey of 1222 Huron avenue, New Castle, whose husband is cashier for the American Railway Express Co. and is well known in business circles here in New Castle.

"My digestion was so poor that even a light meal would cause distress from heartburn and sour distress would rattle into my throat. There was so much gas that it pressed around my heart, making it flutter and caused shortness of breath, my tongue was coated and often I would feel so dizzy that I would have to sit down for a time. I frequently had headaches and was so nervous every little noise would bother me. I was awake frequently during the night and in the morning felt about as tired as when I went to bed the night before. I really felt so run down that my household work seemed quite a burden."

"I was attracted to Vendol by what people right here at home had to say about it helping them and since taking three bottles I really feel like a different person. I am no longer troubled with acid indigestion or gas in my stomach, my tongue has lost that furry coating and my nerves have been calmed so that I get plenty of restful sleep every night. I haven't had a dizzy spell nor a headache for a couple of weeks and am entirely free of the pains in my arms and across my back which were so troublesome. "I jokingly remarked not long ago that I would be hunting another boarding house if my appetite improved much more."

Begin Laying In April

Pheasants usually begin laying in this locality about the first week of April and it is expected that 1300 hens and about 300 male birds will be placed in the laying pens the latter part of March. With this number of birds in the laying pens last year over sixty-one thousand eggs were produced on the Jordan Farm between April 1 and June 30. Production reaching the peak the last week of May, during which production for the week averaged slightly over one thousand eggs per day. These eggs usually run about 88 to 90 percent fertile, and the average hatching throughout the season runs about seventy-one percent of all eggs, however with the new incubating equipment installed at the Jordan farm last spring, several hatches of over eighty percent of all eggs set, or better than ninety percent of fertile eggs, were secured from eggs while production was at peak.

It is expected that about thirty thousand eggs will be set at the farm this coming season.

Bids Too High For 1933 Auto

Council Rejects Bids And Instructs City Clerk To Readvertise

When members of council convened in the city building today bids for the purchase of a five passenger automobile for the city department of streets were rejected upon recommendation of Councilman B. F. Butler.

He sent word to council through Engineer Harry Hoskins that the bids were not responsive to his ideas. The city advertised for a 1933 five passenger car.

Butler took the attitude that a new 1934 five passenger auto would be cheaper than a 1933 five passenger car at the prices offered.

Council directed the city clerk to ask for new bids on a 1934 five passenger automobile.

Viaduct Grant Has $57,180 Gift

Loan Is $192,820 According To Public Works Administration Statement

By ARTHUR C. WIMBER
Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The public works administration announcement of funds is an outright grant of $57,180 and a loan of $192,820 to Lawrence county for the construction of the Croton viaduct in New Castle.

The $57,180 represents a gift. The balance of $192,820 will be a loan to the county secured by the county bonds. The public works administration expects to forward an acceptance contract to Lawrence county commissioners within ten days or two weeks.

The administration announced the viaduct could be started within two months and completed in 12 months.

Two Automobile Accidents Sunday

Despite the heavy snowfall with its hazards for automobile operation only a few accidents were reported Sunday to the city police department. No persons were injured but machines were damaged somewhat.

C. A. Heasley, 717 Brooklyn avenue, reported his car skidded in East North street and damaged a car carrying Pennsylvania license number 66G9.

W. J. Graham, R. D. 4, city, answered the signal of a policeman and pulled to Mill street from Home street and the car of J. M. Wallace, 211 Boyles avenue, going south on Mill street, hit and damaged his car, Graham reported.

CURB THE MOUNTING DEATH RATE

PEDESTRIANS on the Highway should always keep to the LEFT HAND side of the road and thus FACE the TRAFFIC

Nearly 30,000 Americans lost their lives in auto accidents in 1933. More than 800,000 others were injured. You can do your part toward reducing these appalling figures by observing the "don't" illustrated above. Others follow.

Coal Industry Booming Today

Begin Disbursing Payroll Of Between $7,000,000 And $8,000,000 In Hard Coal Field

SCRANTON, Pa., Feb. 26.—With the protracted cold snap insuring them continued employment, more than 105,000 workers in Pennsylvania's anthracite field today radiated optimism as coal companies began disbursing a payroll of between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000 the largest since 1928.

The pay which companies began distributing today was for the first 12 working days in February, when the demand for coal was the heaviest in the past six years.

In addition to the miners, about 30,000 workers in the anthracite region employed on CWA projects, will receive about $300,000 during the week, it was estimated.

The demand for anthracite has reached boom time proportions as a result of the intense cold in the region, some of which were hard pressed to find sufficient cars to transport the anthracite to the eastern seaboard.

Millard Mills Named Fireman

Millard Mills today was named by city council as a temporary city fireman upon recommendation of Public Safety Director D. O. Davies.

Jacob Kahner has been ill more than 30 days, according to Davies. Civil service list of eligibles for the fire department expired some time ago, according to Davies.

Truck Stalls On Viaduct; Trolley Service Impeded

Students of the New Castle Senior high school and the George Washington Junior high school, living in the Seventh ward, who rely on a special street car from the New Castle Traction company to carry them to school each morning, had a long wait in the snowstorm this morning. Some returned to their homes.

The delay was through no fault of the Traction company, however, but was due to a large truck and trailer owned by a man named Reed stalled on the Gardner avenue viaduct. The truck stalled for an hour in the path of the "special" and, although trolley passengers were transferred to another street car west of the truck, the service was interrupted considerably.

We like the puns on the word "code". It makes the situation more like a real war to have atrocities.

Rift Occurs On McClure Counsel

One Of 13 Attorneys Defending Senator McClure Plans To Withdraw

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 26.—As the result of the appeal brief filed last week which vigorously attacked federal judge George A. Welsh for his conduct during the trial, a rift was apparent today in the ranks of counsel for State Senator John J. McClure of Delaware county and his 55 codefendants, convicted of engineering a huge liquor conspiracy.

One of the 13 attorneys whose names are attached to the sensational brief has declared his intention to withdraw from the case, while another is expected to take similar action.

Reputing the brief's charges of being "hostile, prejudiced and Welsh, Attorney Adrian Bonnelly, who represents former Delaware county detective James Mell, asserted:

"I have just returned from Washington after several days. My attention has been called to newspaper reports of the defense brief filed in the McClure case. I am regretful of the strong language used in the brief. I did not see and would not have consented to it. I am not in favor of basing an appeal upon a personal attack upon a jurist whom I have known for more than 20 years."

"I shall send for my client and request permission to withdraw from this case."

A statement to the same effect, it was reported, may be expected from John Gilbride Jr., another of the defense attorneys.

John McGraw Is Taken By Death

Former Fiery Manager Of New York Giants Dies In New Rochelle, N. Y. Hospital

RELAPSE FATAL TO DIAMOND VET

(International News Service) NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Feb. 26.—The body of John J. McGraw, former manager of the New York Giants, who died yesterday in the New Rochelle hospital, will lie in state today and tomorrow at his home here, with funeral services planned for Wednesday at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City.

Following the services, which will be presided over by the Rev. Vincent De Paul Mulry of St. Catherine's Roman Catholic church of Pelham, the body of the famous leader will be shipped to Baltimore, scene of his earliest triumphs on the diamond, where it will be placed in a vault in Bonnie Brae cemetery pending permanent burial later.

Notables To Attend. The services will be attended by hundreds of leaders from all walks of life, who knew and respected the great baseball strategist. From all over the country last night came messages from civic and sports dignitaries announcing their intention to attend the funeral.

Although McGraw had been confined to the New Rochelle hospital for ten days, his death yesterday came as a surprise as it had been believed that he had passed the crisis and was on the way to recovery.

Suffered Relapse. Late Saturday night a relapse took place and McGraw lapsed into a coma, from which he did not emerge until his death shortly before noon yesterday.

McGraw's wife, Mrs. Blanche Sindall McGraw was summoned to the hospital a few minutes before the end and she sat at his bedside holding his hand as he drew his final breath.

Also in the hospital room were a group of intimate friends two priests and two physicians.

Just before the end the little group huddled in the corridor outside the leader's door and were led in prayer by the Rev. Father Mulry.

Late last night the following statement was issued by Dr. Louis B. Chapman the McGraw family physician:

"For some time Mr. McGraw had been suffering from prostatic trouble. During the last eight or ten weeks this trouble had increased causing a condition for which the patient did not seek immediate relief. That fact was indirectly the cause of his uremia. However at the hospital he showed remarkable recuperative powers and until late yesterday it was believed he was on the road to recovery."

Bobby: "Is this a camel's hair brush, mamma?"

Mamma: "Yes, my son."

Bobby: "But, how does a camel manage to brush its hair with a little thing like that?"

Westminster Hands Edinboro First Defeat In Three Years At The Edinboro Floor

(Special To The News) EDINBORO, Pa., Feb. 26.—It took the Westminster Titan basketball team to snap the home winning streak of the Edinboro Teachers college quintet here Saturday night. The Titans won 45 to 30 in rather easy fashion. It was the first upset for Edinboro in three years on the home court.

Westminster got away to a flying start and piled up a lead of 24 to 10 at the end of the first half. Edinboro played better in the second half, holding the Lawthermen down to 21 points and scoring 20 themselves. Wes Bennett was the big scorer of the battle with 15 points, while Ray Sweeney with 11 points was also near the top. Cohen was the best for the Teachers with 12 points.

Union-East Brook Will Play Tuesday

County League Game At Union Floor Will Have Particular Bearing On Title

Union high school basketball can make their title chances safer tomorrow night at the Union high floor if they upset the strong East Brook high quintet. The girls of the two schools will play the preliminary game at 7:15 o'clock.

Coach Davey Boyd has the Union team all pepped up for the East Brook game. Now that the 13 straight winning streak has been broken Union should step out and play a better brand of basketball.

Coach Boyd will stick to the starting lineup for the game with East Brook. This game looks a lot tougher to Union than the fans would imagine.

East Brook has been stepping along fast the past several weeks, and are out to take the measure of the Unionites if they can. Rung and H. Kednal are the "big shots" in the East Brook lineup, and Union will have to keep an eagle eye on this pair.

Sportsmen To View Pictures

Norman A. Wood, representative of the Board of Game commissioners of the state of Pennsylvania, has been secured to show a series of new game pictures at the regular meeting of the Shenango Valley association on March 9, 1934, in the basement of the M. E. church at Pulaski.

All members are urged to be present and any others in the county who would like to attend.

New Castle And Union To Meet Friday Night

W. P. I. A. L. First Round Elimination Game At George Washington Floor

New Castle high school basketball team, section three champions, and union high school, section 18 champions, will play Friday night, March 2, at the George Washington junior high floor in the first game of the elimination round in the W. P. I. A. L. basketball tourney. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

The game has plenty of popular appeal for the New Castle fans. New Castle high was undefeated in section three, winning eight straight games. Union was defeated but once in section 18, with Zellenople high claiming the honor in the very first sectional battle of the year.

Teams Practice. Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh will give the New Castle boys a lot of polishing this week. Coach Davey Boyd will work the Unionites several times this week, in the hope of having them at the top of their game when they tangle with the big New Castle team.

Tickets for the game will be 40 cents if bought prior to the night of the game, and 50 cents at the gate. Tickets for the New Castle fans will be sold at the Sporting Goods store, the junior highs and the senior high school. The Union fans can get their tickets at the Union high school building and from any of the Union A. A. members.

Final arrangements for the playing of the game were made by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner of senior high and Faculty Manager W. L. Burkhardt of Union high at a recent meeting. The prices for the game were set by the W. P. I. A. L. and the local schools had nothing to do with that end of it.

J. Moore Is High In Weekly Shoot Of Nonpareil Club

Captain Harvey Bintrm Grants Nonpareil Club Right To Use New Rifle Range

J. Moore was high man in the weekly shoot of the Nonpareil Club at their range in the West Side garage. Moore had a score of 189, with R. Moore second with 185, and with Eckles third with 184. Rohrer was fourth high with 181 being tied with Shaw who also had 181.

The next shoot of the Nonpareil Club will be Tuesday evening. Arrangements have been made through Bintrm for the Nonpareil Club to use the new Army rifle range located in the West Side Garage.

It was thought at first that the Nonpareil Club would have to hunt for other quarters, but will be allowed to remain on the range.

The results of the last shoot of the club:

J. Moore 189 R. Moore 185 Eckles 184 Rohrer 181 Lawthermen in 29 games, 26 of which were with college teams. This is the longest schedule the Titans have had in recent years, and is the longest of any district team.

These final Tri-State games, with Geneva, Thiel and Grove City, will mark the final conference appearance of Captain Bill Douglas, forward, and Elmer Meider, guard. Both players are members of the senior class.

Westminster officials are already reserving seats for the two last home games, with Thiel and Grove City. There will be 400 reserved seats available for each of these contests.

Titans Face Tri-State Foes During Week

Play Geneva Thursday At Beaver Falls; Thiel Friday

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 26.—The championship of the Tri-State Conference may be at stake this week as the Westminster College basketball team faces two league rivals on successive nights. The Titans play Geneva at Beaver Falls on Thursday night, and play host to Thiel at New Wilmington on Friday night.

Geneva, defeated earlier this month by a large score at New Wilmington, was decidedly "off" and will be set to turn the tables on the Titans Thursday. Coach John Lawther believes the Covenanters to be one of the best teams in the district, and the members of the team expect the hardest game of the campaign at Beaver Falls Thursday.

Geneva last year defeated Westminster twice, being the only team to do this in six seasons. In Ginsberg, Littell, and Grahame, Coach Ken Loeffler has three of the outstanding players of the league, and three who will be out to give the Titans plenty of trouble.

The scrappy team, always in the game to the last minute, will make matters any easier on Friday night at New Wilmington. Thiel was defeated at Greenville, but fought hard all the way. With three or four excellent shots, the Lutherans are always dangerous.

These two contests this week, and the final game with Grove City on March 7, end a long campaign for the Titans which will have seen the Lawthermen in 29 games, 26 of which were with college teams. This is the longest schedule the Titans have had in recent years, and is the longest of any district team.

These final Tri-State games, with Geneva, Thiel and Grove City, will mark the final conference appearance of Captain Bill Douglas, forward, and Elmer Meider, guard. Both players are members of the senior class.

Westminster officials are already reserving seats for the two last home games, with Thiel and Grove City. There will be 400 reserved seats available for each of these contests.

ST. VITUS WINS St. Vitus basketball team won a 23-15 victory over the East Side quintet, Saturday on the Lincoln and Garfield floor. Santangelo and Cenock were the stars for the winners while Tomasello proved the best for the losing team.

Catholics Lose To Second U. P.

Second United Presbyterians won their ninth of 15 games when they defeated the Catholics 46 to 23, Saturday on the Senior High School floor. The Catholics could not check Kennedy or Stritz, forwards, who scored 28 of the 46 points.

The lineup:

Second U. P.—46 Fg. F. Tp. Kennedy, f. 8 1 17 Stritz, f. 5 1 11 Frazer, c. 3 0 6 Reardon, g. 1 2 8 Dunlap, g. 4 0 8 Totals 21 4 46

Representatives of all Mercer County Class A schools attended the drawings. As usual, the Class B winner and runner-up to be "terminated" in a tournament next week, will compete in the tournament. The drawings resulted as follows:

Tuesday, March 6: Class B winners vs. Sharpville, 7:30; Sharon vs. Farrell, at 8:30.

Wednesday, March 7: Class B runner-up vs. Mercer, 7:30; Grove City vs. Greenville.

Friday, March 9: winner of Class B champions—Sharpville vs. Sharon-Farrell winner, 7:30; winner of Class B runner-up Mercer game vs. winner of Grove City-Greenville game, 8:30.

Saturday, March 10: Final game between Friday night winners.

The representatives names four officials, from which two will probably be available to handle all tournament games. They were H. H. Farrell; Bradley of Cleveland; Burns of Erie and Morgan of Youngstown.

Union Leads In Title Chase In County League

Union High Must Win Next Three Games To Stay Out In Front

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 26.—Union high school basketball team rules the Class A county basketball league today. Union must defeat East Brook, Mt. Jackson and Shenango before the season closes. Two victories out of the three remaining games would give the Davey Boyd passers a tie for the title.

Bessemer and New Wilmington still have a mathematical chance of deadlocking the Boydens. Union will meet East Brook high at the Union high court Tuesday evening in what should be a first class battle.

Bessemer's victory over Union last Friday night, while satisfactory to the followers of the Cement town team, did not change the complexion of the county league race to any great extent.

Should Union drop one more game the lead would be tied up with Union, Bessemer and New Wilmington sharing honors, providing Bessemer and New Wilmington win all of their remaining games.

If a three-way tie does exist at the end of the season, it has been strongly urged that the three teams get together and play for the title. This series would draw a lot of attention from the fans and would probably draw banner crowds.

Slippery Rock At Mt. Jackson Tuesday Night

Mt. Jackson High Faculty Will Play East Brook A. A. Team In Feature Game

Slippery Rock High school basketball team, members of Section 18 of the W. P. I. A. L. will be the attraction at the Mt. Jackson High floor Tuesday evening, it was announced by Coach Spears today.

Coach Spears hopes to take the measure of the Slippery Rock team and thereby snap the losing streak of the Mt. Jackson high team, which has extended to quite a number of defeats.

MAHONING LOSES TO FIRST CHRISTIANS

First M. E. defeated St. Michaels 26-22. Sacred Hearts won from Finnish Lutherans 38-15, in "A" division games and First Christians vanquished Mahoning Presbyterians 30-35 in a "B" division game of the Church Basketball league at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday night. All were initial games in the fourth round of both divisions.

First M. E. outshot the St. Michaels basketballers from field and from foul line. In the second half St. Michaels played a much better brand of basketball than during the first half. They scored 16 to 12 points for First M. E.

Finnish Lutherans presented little opposition to the Sacred Hearts but in the "B" game, First Christians were forced to use all their stuff to defeat the Mahoning Presbyterians. Presbyterians trailed by three points in the first half and two in the second half.

The lineup:

Matt J. Winn, president of the American turf association.

This total is six more than was the case last year when 118 horses were nominated for the classic event. An unusual feature of the 1934 nominations is the number of high-class fillies placed among the eligibles.

These include the winter favorite, Charles T. Fisher's Mata Hari, E. R. Bradley's Bazaar, M. L. Schwartz's Hindu Queen, the Kershaw stable on hand, C. V. Whitney's Jabot and Mrs. John Zoeller's Tannee.

Leading the list in number of nominations is Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree stable with five entered. Mrs. Whitney has entered Black Buddy, Soom, Over, Spy Hill, The Triumph and Earnings. Her Twenty Grand won the Derby in 1931.

Death Of Ringer Held Accidental

Coroner's Jury Absolves Drivers Of Both Machines In Recent Fatality

INQUEST HELD HERE SATURDAY

After hearing the testimony of witnesses, a coroner's jury absolved both G. C. Dennison, of Ellwood City, and George B. Cochran, of Youngstown, of any negligence in connection with the death of Harry M. Ringer, of Ellwood City, who was killed on the evening of January 13, in a collision near the Ohio state line, on Route 422. The inquest was held Saturday afternoon in the office of Alderman L. C. Mantz, New Castle.

Dennison was driving the machine in which Ringer was riding, the latter being his brother-in-law. Cochran was operating a bus of the Penn-Ohio coach lines. The two cars collided, a short distance this side of the Ohio state line, when Dennison's car skidded on the icy road, and swerved in front of the bus.

Bus Driver Testifies
Cochran, who was driving the bus was the first witness called. He stated that he had started to slow down for the curve at the Ohio state line, and noticed Dennison's machine coming towards him. As it reached a point about fifty feet away, it swerved over into the middle of the road. He stated that he applied his brakes and tried to turn the bus to avoid a collision, but the momentum carried it forward on the slippery roadway and the two machines crashed together. The bus was damaged, and the front wheel and steering apparatus and he was unable to proceed after the accident, he stated.

Dr. Paul Wilson, testified to examining Ringer's body after the accident and found him dead. Ringer had sustained a fractured skull, and his left leg was broken below the knee.

A. J. Dambach, of Ellwood City, who is a foreman at the National Tube plant and who was in the machine of Dennison when the accident occurred, stated that the group in Dennison's car had attended a foreman's meeting in Youngstown, leaving there around 8:30. He judged that the accident had happened a little after nine o'clock.

After he had rounded the curve at the Ohio state line, he stated that he saw the lights of an approaching machine and made the remark that the driver was taking his share of the road.

Rendered Unconscious
He remembered nothing after that until he regained consciousness as they neared the Youngstown hospital, and he was taken following the accident.

Robert Campbell, of near New Bedford, testified to coming upon the scene of the accident, shortly after it had happened. All four occupants of the Dennison car were still in the machine.

He stated that he asked the driver if he wanted him to call an ambulance and went across the fields to the nearest house to do so. There was no one at home, however, and he returned. He helped straighten out the machines so that traffic could be resumed on the road. Dennison's car was pointed west, and had been knocked back about 15 feet by the collision. The bus was headed north with its front wheels in the ditch and was directly across the road, he said.

Elden Danner, of 316 Wood street, Ellwood City, who was following the Dennison car and came upon the scene of the accident shortly after the collision, told of taking Dambach and Fehl to a Youngstown hospital. Both seemed badly injured and had to be carried to his car.

Dennison Tells Story
Greer C. Dennison of 418 Hazel street, Ellwood City, driver of the car in which Ringer met his death, told of the collision.

The roads seemed fairly good coming out of Youngstown. It had been raining and then turned to snow. The streets were slippery in Youngstown and did not seem slippery until he struck the concrete road, this side of the Ohio line when it became very slippery. Ringer called attention to the bad curve and he slowed down. After he had left the curve, the car swerved around into the middle of the road. He noticed the approaching machine and tried to swing entirely off the road, but couldn't get straightened out. Then the collision occurred.

He looked around after the collision, and found Ringer sitting straight up in his seat. When he spoke to him, and he did not answer, he reached over and felt for his pulse. He could detect no beat and felt for the large artery in his neck. He was unable to find any sign of life there, either. He turned around to Dambach and Fehl. Neither were conscious. A little later, Dambach seemed to revive slightly and spoke to Fehl.

Church Damaged By Fire Sunday

Roof Of A. M. E. Church Destroyed By Fire Of Undetermined Origin

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 26.—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the roof of the A. M. E. Church Sunday night about 10 o'clock while local firemen battled to keep the flames from spreading to the remainder of the building and to adjoining property. The church is located on the corner of 11th street and Center avenue.

When local firemen had been called to the scene the fire had made considerable progress in the strong gust of wind prevailing last night. The fire, according to Fire Chief H. T. Plante had started among the double set of rafters in the roof, which condition made it extremely difficult to put out. Most of the damage was centered to the roof of the building, which suffered an estimated loss of $2500.

Young Slayer Is Repentant

Russell Graham, Oil City,
Lodged In Venango Jail
On Murder Charge

KILLED FATHER IN FIT OF RAGE

(International News Service)
FRANKLIN, Pa., Feb. 26.—A 17-year-old Oil City high school junior, accused of killing his father, Alorzo Graham, 66, was a repentant figure as he awaited arraignment here today on murder charges.

Pleading for forgiveness, the boy sobbed over remarks of sorrow as he stood over the casket in which the parent was laid to rest yesterday. A heart-broken mother stood by on the verge of collapse and promised with other members of the Graham family to do "all we can to help you."

Pathetic Scene
Then the accused, Russell A. Graham, left his family in tears to attend funeral services while he was taken back to his jail cell.
"It was one of the most pathetic scenes I have witnessed," Sheriff Hero L. Beatty, who accompanied the boy to the Graham home, said.
Russell is accused of stabbing his father to death when the latter objected to the playing of a radio.

Two Negroes Die At Rockview In Electric Chair

Two Pay With Lives For Slaying
Of Hold-up Victim
At Philadelphia

(International News Service)
ROCKVIEW PENITENTIARY, BELLEFONTE, Pa., Feb. 26.—Two Philadelphia negroes, one of whom maintained his innocence until the fatal bolt of electricity was shot through his body, were electrocuted here today for the murder of Charles Downey in an attempted hold-up at Philadelphia on December 17, 1932.
Joseph Sterling sat in the chair at 7 a. m. and was pronounced dead at 7:03.

Robert Harris, calling upon God for forgiveness, entered the death chamber at 7:05 and was pronounced dead at 7:08.
"I am an innocent man," Harris cried as he entered the execution room. While guards adjusted the straps and electrodes to his body, he called upon God to have mercy upon his soul and continued talking until a moment before Executioner Robert Elliott pulled the switch. His body became tense and then it relaxed.
Sterling had nothing to say until after the black mask was placed over his face. He then murmured something not understood by witnesses.

Both were unattended by clergy and walked to their doom with a firm step. Neither smoked or displayed any outward signs of nervousness.

Weather Delays CWA Projects

Outdoor projects of the CWA are idle today, and the only men working are those who are on indoor work such as painting and repairing. Once again King Winter has chopped off a lot of money for the workers of Lawrence county, for it appears doubtful that it will be possible to make up all the time lost.

Last week's payroll would have touched $80,000 had the weather been anything like it should have been. As it was, it was but $46,000 and the week before it was $15,000 under what it might easily have been.

The work of pointing up the schools of the city is delayed because of the weather, although scaffolding has been up for two weeks. When the weather does break sufficiently to permit outdoor work the men will get a chance to make up some of the lost time.

Will Investigate Charges Vs. Ford Company On Code

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Describing its letter of explanation "factitious," the NRA notified Edsel Ford today it would investigate charges his company has violated the automobile code "without his cooperation."

The letter was prompted by refusal of the Ford Motor Co. to send representatives to a hearing held here by William H. Davis, national compliance director, at which both sides were expected to voice their arguments.

The workers, who made affidavits charging the company refused to bargain collectively with their representatives at its Edgewater (N. J.) and Chester (Pa.) assembly plants, appeared for the hearing. They submitted their affidavits to William Green, president of the A. F. of L., who transferred them to Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson "for action."

B. J. Craig, secretary of the Ford Motor company, sent Davis a long letter in which he denied the company had violated any provisions of the automobile code or the national recovery act.
